

COLORFUL WATER SPECTACLE SATURDAY ATTRACTION

McKinley, McDonald Star In City's Greatest Aquacade

AQUA CAPTAIN JOAN MCKINLEY

By GEORGE INGLIS
Daily Courier Staff Writer

Birthday parties, bond-burning and bathing beauties will be free fare on tomorrow night's special spectacular Aquacade in Ogopogo Pool.

A "command performance" to commemorate the Social Credit birthday party, the burning of the province's direct debt bonds and to promote the forthcoming Regatta, the show will be the biggest spectacle this year.

Headlined in the show will be Irene MacDonald, the unsurpassed queen of Canadian diving, recently crowned champion of the national AAU spring board competitions.

Curvaceous blonde Joan McKinley, aqua-ballet mistress for the Kelowna Regattas of the past three years and a rhythmic swim champion in her own right, will stage a solo number for the party, and conduct her water sprites in a group number, as well as the climactic ceremony of the show, the appearance of the huge birthday cake in the pool escorted by mermaids.

One of the most unusual attractions ever staged at an Aquacade will be the number by Frank James, "the fastest gun in the world." Barred from carrying his guns last Tuesday night due to non-arrival of his permits from Victoria, James will stage the lightning draw and firing routine that he has recently staged at the Portland Festival of Roses and the Calgary Stampede.

The Kelowna City Band, a group of volunteer musicians under the leadership of Gar McKinley, will supply the bounce for the show.

A veteran diver and two young up-and-comers will share the exhibition diving spotlight with Miss MacDonald — Dave Mangold, Mary Jansen and Gordon Brow. Mangold, a former Washington State champion, now a resident of Kelowna, is a top performer both in clown and straight diving. Miss Jansen and Mr. Brow are 16-year-olds with plenty of talent, and Brow, a Christina Lake youth, is especially promising.

For the crew-cuts in the crowd, Bruce Bissell and his "Kels," will add a be-bop note to the festivities, and comedy numbers will supply the laughs.

Mrs. Ev Larsen will do the calling for a square dance number by the "Wagon Wheelers," and music will be sweet and swingy with a western bounce.

The "bond-fire" party will leave directly from the Aquacade to set the fire on a special raft out in the lake, and the brilliant display of fireworks will climax the Aquacade, and the evening.

S.C. PARTY EPIC LOCAL EVENT

AWAIT WORD

Vernonites May Get Ellison Job

A Vernon firm expects to receive official confirmation from Ottawa today that it has been awarded the contract for the 7,000-foot runway at Kelowna Municipal Airport at Ellison.

The Courier learned from reliable sources that the contract will be awarded to R. E. Postill and Sons for a sum slightly in excess of $300,000. The Vernon firm had the lowest bid when tenders closed June 16.

Red tape and other points to be clarified have delayed the official confirmation until now.

Neither R. E. Postill nor his son, R. W. Postill, had received the confirming telegram up to press time today, but they indicated they were ready to go to work the moment the confirmation was received.

PIPE ARRIVES

In fact, some hard-to-get drainage pipe from the United States, affected by the steel strike, already has been unloaded at the airport. Mr. Postill said it had been ordered several weeks ago.

The contract provides for excavation, back-fill, packing, of nearly 100,000 tons of gravel, making of the asphalt, laying down a 5,000-foot asphalt runway, plus 1,000 feet at either end of compact gravel, laying ditches and drain pipes.

Interior Fires Said Worse

The forest fire situation in the Kamloops forest district is becoming "worse" according to rangers.

There have been six new fires in the past 24 hours with eight old ones extinguished.

More than 80 men and 13 bulldozers are fighting the 52 fires now burning. Most of the conflagrations are in the Cariboo district, with one blaze reported in the Pentiction area.

FIREFIGHTERS HAMPERED

Only one family returned to strength into an abated forest fire which for the past week has scorched large segments of the rich northeastern Gaspe Peninsula timberland and forced rest-other families stayed away.

TOWN TOPICS

ALL CITY RESIDENTS will be able to water their lawns and gardens on Saturday, according to Ald. Jack Treadgold. Reason is that July 31 and August 1 are "uneven" dates. The system of alternate sprinkling will go into effect again Sunday, with "even" household numbers getting the break.

FRANK JAMES, currently appearing here with Ghost Town, B.C., and touted as the man with the fastest gun draw in the world, will be performing for the children's show, Saturday afternoon at City Park Oval and also on the Aquatic stage Saturday evening.

BING, HARRIS WILL VACATION IN B.C.

VANCOUVER (CP)—Crooner Bing Crosby and band leader Phil Harris are planning a two-week fishing cruise for a party of four or five persons from Seattle up an inland passage in British Columbia, it was learned today.

Freedomite Mothers To Get Children

NELSON (CP)—Magistrate William Evans today ordered that all except two of the 77 Doukhobor children attending the New Denver dormitory school be returned to the control of their mothers.

The children are to be released from the school Sunday. Of the two exceptions, special arrangements for the education of one are being made and the other is to be returned to his grandparents.

Fifty-four mothers applied for release of their children from the school, operated by the provincial government since the fall of 1954 to educate children of Sons of Freedom Doukhobors who refused to send the youngsters to regular public schools.

The mothers gave oath in court that the children will be sent to public schools this fall and Magistrate Evans said:

"I am satisfied that they were and are sincere and will keep their promise."

Bennett Cabinet Plans Work Party

Premier Bennett and his cabinet ministers will be doing manual labor at the Aquatic Saturday afternoon.

They will load $97,000,000 worth of cancelled bonds brought to Kelowna in an armored truck, onto the large raft on which they will be burned later in the evening.

Loading will take place at 5:30 p.m. in front of Ogopogo Stadium, under the watchful eye of armed police. The bond-carrying armored car is due to arrive this evening.

Once loaded, the raft will be under constant guard until it is ignited by the premier about 10 o'clock, after the stage program is concluded.

The extravagant fireworks display will follow immediately. The raft, 45 feet by 30 feet, and

City Hotels Jammed For Big Celebration

The proudest moment of Premier Bennett's long and colorful political career is about at hand. Tomorrow night he will declare British Columbia free of public debt.

But before he lights a torch to a bond-laden raft, Kelownians, along with hundreds of visiting dignitaries and guests, will join in a day-long razzle-dazzle celebration never before witnessed in this city.

Tomorrow also marks the seventh anniversary of B.C.'s Social Credit government. That's why Mr. Bennett has chosen 9:27 to ignite the bond-laden raft which will be anchored in Okanagan Lake in front of Ogopogo Stadium. It was at this precise time, seven years ago, that the Premier and members of his cabinet were sworn into office.

Streets of Kelowna will be ringing with music all day as eight marching bands blare out musical tribute for the B.C. government's birthday party.

Festivities will actually get underway tonight when the colorful 68-member B.C. Lions Junior Band presents a concert on Bernard Avenue in front of the Royal Anne Hotel between 8 and 9 p.m.

Kelownians and visitors in a celebration mood sharp at 10 a.m. Saturday. Two hours later, in front of Jubilee Bowl, Premier Bennett will officially open the gala event. Mayor R. F. Parkinson, at the same time, will welcome Mr. Bennett and distinguished visitors to the city.

At 12:30 p.m. Mr. Bennett will be guest of honor at a luncheon See BOND PARTY — Page 2

Visitors from all points of the Pacific Northwest are arriving hourly. Accommodation already has been booked solid, and by midnight tonight it is expected auto courts and motels all the way from Winfield, south to Penticton will be filled to capacity.

Even the weatherman is co-operating. Long range forecast indicates skies will remain clear for the next 72 hours. Temperatures are expected to soar into the high 80's.

Press and radio representatives from practically every point in the province will be on hand. Top-notch feature writers from some of Canada's outstanding magazines also will be here for the celebration. The Canadian Press plans giving the event a complete news and photo coverage.

Premier and Mrs. Bennett arrived home late last night. They were accompanied by several cabinet ministers and their wives.

ARMORED BOND CAR
An armored car, carrying bonds valued at $70,000,000, left Victoria at 5:30 this morning.

Escorted by police, the vehicle is expected to arrive here late this afternoon. The bonds will be immediately transferred to a bank vault for safekeeping overnight.

At 5:30 tomorrow afternoon, Premier Bennett and members of his cabinet, will assist in loading the bonds on a raft, which will be moored in the vicinity of the ferry wharf. Later it will be towed into position in front of the Ogopogo Stadium where it will be anchored.

The day-long celebration will conclude with one of the greatest fireworks displays ever witnessed in the interior. Seven huge sky-rockets will be the last to be set off—seven, to mark the seven years the Social Credit government has been in power.

Interior Forest District Sets Up New Lookout

VERNON (Special) — Late last week a new B.C. Forest Service lookout was established in Kamloops forest district.

This brings the total of observation points in the Kamloops area up to 35. They watch over a vast expanse including the Okanagan Valley.

Situated on the summit of 6,900-foot Windy Mountain, 40 miles east of Kamloops, this point overlooks an important forest area north of Canim Lake. Part of the Las La Hache sustained yield unit, this area currently is being opened by construction of 20 miles of B.C. Forest Service access road.

At present a rough road reaches within seven miles of Windy Lookout. Forest Service construction men are improving the existing section of road and will build new road for the remainder of the distance to the lookout site.

Due to mounting fire hazard conditions, Forest Service officials decided to establish a temporary lookout to serve until the road is completed, giving a car-penetration access to build the tower required as a permanent installation.

AIR LIFT On July 23, some 3,000 pounds of building materials and other supplies were air lifted by helicopter from Needa Flats, 35 miles east of Kamloops, to the lookout point.

Piloted by Al Harrison, the helicopter is operating under charter to the B.C. Forest Service from Pacific Helicopters Limited, of Vancouver. Pilot Harrison has worked on four similar projects at various points in B.C. during the past year.

Sandy Chomyc, of Horsely, B.C., was chosen to man the new lookout. He will live in a tent until the permanent structure is completed.

Weather reports, starting July 24, from weather instruments in his care, will be used in conjunction with reports from other lookouts across B.C. to determine the build-up of fire weather hazard conditions.

Prizes will be awarded for the best decorated bicycles, costumes and pets. Free ice cream, hot dogs and soft drinks will be given to the youngsters.

At the same hour, Mrs. Bennett will preside at a garden party to be held at the Premier's Ethel Street residence.

A gala parade will kick off the evening celebration at 7:30 p.m. The parade will snake down Bernard Avenue and end up in front of the City Park Oval. The huge birthday cake, complete with seven candles, also will be in the parade. Everyone attending the evening show at Ogopogo Stadium will receive a piece of the birthday cake.

NIGHT SHOW The night show at the Aquatic will start at 8:30 p.m. (see story elsewhere on page one), and will conclude with the bond-burning ceremony and the fireworks display.

Tomorrow morning, Premier Bennett and members of his cabinet, will take time out from their busy schedule, and pay an official visit to Kelowna City Hall. They will be met by members of the City Council, and will pose for an official photograph.

The celebration is not expected to wind up until the wee small hours of Sunday morning.

HIGHLY-ENTERTAINING SERIES

Vernon Tourist Writes Bright Travelogue For Daily Courier

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Seldom does the layman tell a story which newspaper editors do not have to "blue-pencil" thoroughly before publication. But Vernon has a laywoman whose efforts in telling the tale of her travels provides bright and highly-entertaining reading... and to which the editor found it unnecessary to "put the pencil"...) Mrs. R. N. Valair's account of her recent six-month tour abroad begins today in The Courier... we are pleased to run this series and invite readers to enjoy this journey to long-famed places of world interest.)

First in a series.

By DORIS VALAIR

VERNON — January 22, 1959. The Italian liner S.S. Augustus at New York. We made stops at Ponto Delgado, in the Azores, Lisbon, Casablanca, and anchored for a few hours off the coast of Gibraltar.

We stopped in Barcelona, where I made myself dreadfully ill... a result of beautifully-prepared seafood and two swallows of Spanish wine.

On the ship at Naples, remained there for five days, crossed Italy to Brindisi, and here boarded a ship for Athens.

The ancient city holds great historical interest, and is dominated by the Acropolis, standing high and alone on a hill. On the other side of the city on another lonely hill is the monument to St. George where you can look across Athens to the Acropolis in the distance. It is as if these two hills were created for a purpose, and antiquity is an engrossing impression.

I visited also the Archaeological museum, Olympic Stadium, Temple of the Olympian Zeus, Hadrian's Arch, the Agora, the prison of Socrates and watched hanging of guards at the palace.

I travelled to Rome, with its memorials of a later period, the Appian Way, the Colosseum, the Vatican, the Pantheon and the fountains of Trevi.

An American girl, whom I met in Rome, was my companion during northern Italy and the Riviera... my only companion seemed to have an instinctive radar system, and miraculously, we were lost only once. We took what we believed to be a train to Venice, and found ourselves heading for the Austrian Alps.

We parted when we reached Venice, she for southern Europe and I for Austria, this time intentionally.

STATELY CITY

Vienna is a stately city and a wonderful place to relax. It is an amazingly easy city to get about in once you have found the Ring, a wide boulevard which completely encircles the older section of the city. Vienna is regaining her reputation as a great shopping centre, and appears to enjoy prosperity.

Berchtesgaden impressed me as the most beautiful city in Bavaria, but the wettest. From my window I could see Hitler's Eagles Nest atop a mountain. It is easy to see why he chose this lovely, secluded little city for his hide-away.

Peasants wear their colorful costumes, not because they wish to be tourist attractions, but because this is a century old tradition. Reluctantly, I left for Munich. But I discovered in this city the same gentle manner and courtesy I had encountered throughout Bavaria.

One evening, I stopped strangers to ask for directions. The young man and his mother promptly invited me to join them for dinner at the Beer Gardens in that district, and asked me to their home the following evening. This is an example of the genuine hospitality of the Bavarian people.

FAIRYLAND

Lucerne is a small city in the Swiss Alps, and takes on a fairyland appearance at night, when the towers and fountains are flooded.

Switzerland, free of wars since William Tell, is prosperous and progressive. Although German, Italian, French and Romansh are spoken, the country is strongly unified.

Geneva, however, is an international city, and the headquarters of the League of Nations and international Red Cross organization.

The Palais des Nations, a masterpiece of modern architecture, was built with materials given as gifts by many countries. It is situated on international territory and issues its own United Nations stamps. Swiss stamps are invalid in this locality.

Between the building and the Bay of Geneva is Wilson Park. Languages of every nation can be heard, and a sari is as common as a western street costume.

Visitors cannot but be deeply impressed by the tremendous influence of the United Nations during every hour spent in Geneva. The city never sleeps, there is life and movement far into the night.

RCMP Hold Hired Hand In Killings

NELSON (CP)—A 26-year-old hired hand was held in jail here overnight for questioning in the double slaying of a young mother and her daughter.

Mrs. Violet Doris Townsend, 28, and her daughter, Linda, 8, were found naked and beaten to death early Thursday on a blood-stained bed in their farm home outside Trail, B.C.

An RCMP officer said the daughter had been raped.

No charges were laid immediately. The man was found, dazed from an apparent overdose of hearse pills, trying to hitchhike on Highway 3, about 30 miles east of here and some 60 miles northeast of the scene of the slayings.

He was taken to Nelson for emergency hospital treatment and later taken to the city jail here. A car missing from the Townsend's hog farm had not been recovered late Thursday.

The victims died of "terrible head injuries caused by a blunt instrument," said coroner Dr. John Mackay of Trail. A two-pound hammer was found near the bed.

Two children sleeping in the same room as the murder victims were not disturbed. A five-year-old son was sleeping in another room.

Two 14-Year-Old Boys Apprehended, Admit Guilt For Wave Of Break-Ins

Two 14-year-old boys who "pushed their luck" a little too far have been apprehended by police. The boys admitted guilt on six charges of breaking and entering.

They were caught early Thursday morning on the premises of Ritchie's Auction Galleries. One was inside the building while the other kept a rather ineffective look-out in the alley.

Police say they were checking the store frequently that evening, following a tip received earlier there were "suspicious persons" hanging around the area.

Entry was gained with a ladder through a second storey window. The boy inside had several boxes of .22 calibre ammunition on his person when apprehended.

PREJUDICE HURTS

Great Strides Made In Mentally Ill Treatment

MATTHEW ROSS, MD, Director
British Columbia Survey on Mental Health Resources and Needs

Editor's Note: Dr. Ross is medical director of the American Psychiatric Association, Washington, D.C. He is conducting a survey of mental health resources and needs in British Columbia at the request of the provincial government. AFA, with 11,500 psychiatric members, is the leading professional society for psychiatrists in North America. It has a Canadian office in Toronto. Working with Dr. Ross are representatives of the Canadian Mental Health Association and its British Columbia division; the Canadian Medical and Psychiatric Associations; the Department of National Health and Welfare; the provincial Department of Mental Health Services; the department of psychiatry of the University of British Columbia Medical School, and over 20 expert consultants drawn from APA committee members and university departments of psychiatry throughout Canada and the United States.

Medical science has not yet pinpointed the cause of most mental illnesses but it has developed many new and effective ways of treating them in the past few decades. In fact, these new treatments are bringing about something akin to a revolution in the treatment and care of the mentally ill.

Back in the nineteenth century, about the only treatment available in the "asylums" of that day was called "moral treatment." This meant that the patients were given good physical care, treated kindly, and kept busy in a program of work, recreation, and education.

Actually, this kind of treatment was quite effective because the asylums as a rule were not overcrowded and the doctors and their staff people could give the patients individual attention. One doctor, in Ohio, by name of Dr. Awl, claimed he cured so many patients that he became known as Dr. Cure-Awl.

TOO MANY PATIENTS

As the small asylums of the last century grew into the very large public mental hospitals of the twentieth century, "moral treatment" was no longer so effective—too many patients and too few people to attend to them.

In recent years, however, many new treatments have been developed.

For example, the paretics who used to be very common in the public mental hospital are now quite rare because penicillin is a specific treatment for syphilis which causes paresis. Electroshock treatment has proven enormously effective in the treatment of some schizophrenics.

Most exciting of all, perhaps, has been the development of various kinds of drugs in recent years such as "tranquilizers" and "psychic energizers."

All of these techniques make seriously sick patients more manageable and more able to communicate with the doctors and other staff people in the hospital. With these treatments it becomes possible to involve the patient in psychotherapy and various forms of socializing activities—recreational, educational, occupational.

DISCHARGED SOONER

Best of all, the new treatments, and especially the drugs, open up the possibility of treating many patients outside of the hospital and of discharging patients from the hospital much sooner than was previously possible. This is why so much emphasis is being placed on the development of community facilities for the mentally ill—clinics, half-way houses, general hospital psychiatric units, day hospitals, night hospitals and the like.

Another change of major importance in recent years has been the gradual acceptance by the public of the fact that "mental illness is an illness."

The former notion that mental illness was hopeless is giving way to realization that "the mentally ill can come back"—if they receive the treatments that are now available to them both in and outside the hospital.

There is, of course, still a lot of prejudice about the mentally ill and perhaps the most important contribution any citizen can make is to overcome this prejudice in himself and among his friends and acquaintances. Only with the help and understanding of all of its citizens can a community bring modern treatments to its mentally ill members.

Different Kind Of 'Cot Picker

OLIVER — An Oliver orchardist had an unexpected help in picking his apricots this week but it wasn't the kind he wanted.

Joseph Scholes, who manages the Albert Miller orchard on Seventh Road south of Oliver, said that when he went out to work he found an apricot tree standing upright on the ground about 50 feet from where it should have been growing.

Scholes said that a high wind apparently snapped the seven-year-old tree off at the base and lifted it into the air. From an indentation in the ground it appeared that the wind dropped the tree 18 feet from its first location, then picked it up again and whirled it 30 feet further where it deposited the tree upright in the ground.

The tree's crop of apricots was scattered over a wide area.

Blood Tests To Determine Toxicity Of Orchard Spray

By Courier Correspondent

WINFIELD — The dangers of certain poison sprays have again been emphasized in the valley. The symptoms of organo-phosphate sprays were outlined at a recent meeting of the Winfield-Okanagan Centre local of the BCFGA.

Dr. M. C. Dobson told the more than 30 people in attendance of a new plan of collecting blood samples from growers with various acreages. The samples would be tested periodically for degree of toxicity.

The proposed plan is expected to go into effect at the beginning of next year's spraying season, with a view to maintaining a "comprehensive picture over the season."

MEET WITH STEACY

In his report on the BCFGA executive, Allen Claridge said, the group plans on meeting Agriculture Minister Steacy September 23. The body will discuss with Mr. Steacy, Dean E. D. MacPhee's recommendation on compensation for tree loss and planting.

The executive committee has indicated the proposal will involve some form of grower contribution.

G. Whittaker and Mel Kawano reported on Tree Fruits growers and Sun Rype Products Ltd., respectively.

POTATO ACREAGE UP

GRAND FORKS — A 30 per cent increase in potato acreage has been planted in Sunshine Valley, with 750 acres under seed. Farmers now are waiting for orders on early potatoes, with the price running about $50 a ton. The fruit crop is also to be doubled with 15,000 boxes expected this year, compared with 7,500 last year.

Hard spring wheats, sown in May for harvesting in late August or September, are Canada's principal wheats.

Private Funeral

A private funeral service was held at the Kelowna Funeral Directors' chapel this afternoon for Mrs. Mary Arthur, wife of James Arthur, 513 Central Ave., and who died at the local hospital Wednesday at the age of 78.

Following the rites, conducted by Rev. D. M. Perley, she was laid to rest in the Kelowna cemetery. Besides her husband, she leaves one daughter, Mrs. Jessie Taylor, in Scotland; three sons, James Jr., East Kelowna; John, Kelowna, and William of Vancouver. Six grandchildren also are left.

Born and married in Scotland, she and her family came to Canada 32 years ago, taking up farming in the East Kelowna district. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur retired to Kelowna 12 years ago.

Three District People Bereaved

A Penticton man, the father of three local and district residents, died at the Penticton hospital Saturday.

Frank August Bach, retired farmer, was 64 years of age. Committal at Lakeside cemetery took place after requiem mass was said at St. Ann's Church, with Rev. L. Viney, OMI, the celebrant.

The late Mr. Bach was born in Russia, came to Canada 45 years ago and spent the past 35 years in this province, the last six in Penticton.

Besides his wife Agatha, he leaves five sons: John, Rutland; Anthony, Naramata; Frank, Joseph, Nelson; Robert, New Westminster; Reginald, at the RCAF base at Comox, B.C.; six daughters, Mrs. C. (Caroline) Bowes, Penticton; Mrs. H. (Marie) Wostrowski, Rutland; Mrs. R. (Clare) Cote, New Westminster; Mrs. J. (Alvina) Lingor, Kelowna; Mrs. S. (Kit) Day, Toronto, and Mrs. D. ANSWER: THE DAILY NEWSPAPER. Although its origin goes back to the early 17th Century, your newspaper is as modern as tomorrow. In recent years North American newspapers have invested over $720 million in new plants, and equipment, and improvement is constantly going on. An automotive official said, "We can talk a lot about automation, but the newspaper press is probably the earliest and still one of the most remarkable examples of automation ever developed."

Private Enterprise Remains Free World's Main Bulwark

Canadians would do well not to allow themselves to be panicked by the bogey of Soviet industrial growth.

Right now the Russian propagandists are bombarding the free world with superficially impressive statistics intended to impress people with the industrial achievements of Soviet socialist planning. Those who take such figures at face value are not unlikely to conclude that the only way the West can prevent being industrially outstripped by Russia is to adopt socialist economic controls themselves.

Such reasoning is both fallacious and highly dangerous. The Russians would like nothing better than for the countries of the free world to resort to greater regimentation and control of their economies. They know that if that were to happen, industrial progress in the West would grind to a halt and economic chaos would soon follow. This would so weaken the free world that ability to resist the Soviet threat of world domination would be seriously undermined.

If the free world is to remain economically strong and industrially superior to the Soviet Union, what is needed is not more but less socialist regimentation of economic life. Faith in private enterprise is what has made the Western countries strong and powerful. It would be an unparalleled disaster were the free world to be panicked by Soviet boasts of industrial progress into abandoning the very foundations upon which freedom and economic superiority over Russia rest.

Alderman Baker Far Off Beam

"Alderman Frank Baker of Vancouver has accused Premier Bennett of 'pinching' the idea of toll-bridges from Greater Vancouver Salute-to-Tourist Day committee". The above quotation is from a news story in the Vancouver Province of July 30th.

If Alderman Baker is quoted correctly he is entirely wrong.

The true story of the birth of the idea is as follows: Some two months ago Premier Bennett accompanied by two of his aids visited the publisher of this newspaper. Two other members of the Courier staff were present, making six in all who are prepared to verify this statement.

Premier Bennett was outlining the plans for the August 1 birthday party and, after some discussion, a member of the Courier staff suggested that a good way to focus the attention of the whole of the province on the party and to let a great number of people unable to participate in the party feel they were part of it, would be to have toll bridges and toll ferries free on August 1 while the celebration is in progress here.

The Premier and his aids jumped at the idea naturally. The group agreed to keep it "off the record" until the necessary order-in-council was passed and Mr. Bennett made the announcement this week.

Actually where the idea was born is not of any great consequence. However there is a tendency in Vancouver to assume that all smart ideas must originate there and Alderman Baker's assumption serves to point this up once again. Our only purpose in telling the correct story is to demonstrate that all good ideas do not necessarily have to be born in Vancouver.

REPORT FROM THE U.K.

Better Showing By Canada At 1959 Dieppe Memorial

By M. MCINTYRE HOOD
Special London (Eng.)
Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON — In August of last year, when the Canadian memorial day, sponsored by the mayor and town council of Dieppe, France, was held on the anniversary of the Dieppe raid, there was some keen criticism of the very small part played in the ceremonies by Canadians.

On that occasion, as I recall it, there were 12 Canadians on hand to join in the ceremonies, and six of these were three couples who happened to be on a holiday visit from Canada at the time.

There was further criticism of the fact that while the mayor of Dieppe, on that day, placed wreaths of six different Canadian memorials, there was no wreath from the Canadian government, and only three placed by Canadian units which took part in the Dieppe raid.

DIFFERENT THIS YEAR

As a result of these criticisms, things are going to be different this year. For the last few months, the Canadian Veterans Association of the United Kingdom has been working on a plan to have a large scale pilgrimage to Dieppe for the August 19 ceremonies.

Arrangements were made for low excursion rates, and for a no-passport trip to Dieppe and back. All the branches of the CVAUK were invited to join in the pilgrimage.

The result has been gratifying beyond the fondest hopes of its sponsors. This year there will be a large contingent representing many of the association's branches in England and the branch in Belgium. They will bring with them their colors and standard-bearers.

It is hoped that the Canadian contingent may outnumber the representation of the Free French Veterans Association, which takes a prominent part in the ceremonies, and last year carried the major share of the burden.

PLEA TO REQUIREMENTS

The association has not only taken steps to ensure that this year a government wreath will be laid on the main memorial, in a cemetery in which are the graves of some 800 of the Canadians who fell at Dieppe, but has also issued a plea to the headquarters of every Canadian regiment which took part in the Dieppe raid to provide a wreath to be laid on the various regimental memorials.

Here again, the response has been gratifying. Canada should make a much more worthy showing this year on the day which the Dieppe authorities set aside as Canada day.

Plans call for the contingent from England to leave London on the evening of August 18, arriving at Dieppe, by steamer from Newhaven, in the early hours of the morning of August 19. The whole day will be spent in taking part in the tour of the Canadian cemeteries and memorials, with special visits to memorials at Pys — for the Royal Regiment of Canada — and at Pourville — for the Queen's Own Cameron Highlanders and the South Saskatchewan Regiment.

The party will leave Dieppe at midnight for the return trip to England.

Firmer Measures Must For Caribou

By ARCH MacKENZIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer
OTTAWA (CP) — Firmer measures to save the Barrens caribou are being studied.

By agreement with Saskatchewan and Manitoba, it may lead to sharp restrictions on what northern natives can do with the moose of the animal that has been a source both of food and shelter for thousands of years.

Authorities estimate the Barrens caribou now is down to about 200,000 head, compared with perhaps 700,000 about 10 years ago and as many as 2,000,000 a century ago. The decline is attributed to indiscriminate slaughter by Indians and Eskimos using powerful modern rifles.

Right now, the Indian affairs branch of the citizenship department is examining preliminary steps to control the taking of caribou by treaty Indians, who so far have been under no form of restriction.

In the Northwest Territories, Indians and Eskimos have been encouraged not to use the caribou for dog food. However, a ban on human consumption of caribou meat is considered too drastic a measure in view of the value of the caribou as a source of food.

It was only within the last few years that Saskatchewan and Manitoba stopped the sports shooting of caribou.

FOUR TYPES

The Barrens caribou is the most abundant of four types. There are the woodland and the mountain species, the latter showing around the Mackenzie River delta in the northwestern Arctic and linking up with the Alaska herds.

In the far north, in the Arctic archipelago, there is another smaller type called the Parry caribou.

Northern Affairs Minister Alvin Hamilton said recently in the Commons that something has to be done fast.

The only sign of hope is a second consecutive good calf year. A survey report just received by the Canadian Wildlife Service indicates that calves constitute more than 20 per cent of the animals that left Manitoba and Saskatchewan this year to migrate.

grate north about breakup time. But the danger is that the number of calf-producing adults is sinking lower all the time.

WOLVES TAKE TOLL
Extensive field work has shown that wolves travelling with herds take a tremendous toll of the migrating caribou.

There has been no visible sign of disease among the caribou and most of the decline is attributed to indiscriminate slaughter by Indians and Eskimos using powerful modern rifles.

Right now, the Indian affairs branch of the citizenship department is examining preliminary steps to control the taking of caribou by treaty Indians, who so far have been under no form of restriction.

In the Northwest Territories, Indians and Eskimos have been encouraged not to use the caribou for dog food. However, a ban on human consumption of caribou meat is considered too drastic a measure in view of the value of the caribou as a source of food.

Red Conspiracy In Himalayas Exposed By India Freedomite

By RUKMINI DEVI
Canadian Press Correspondent

BOMBAY (CP) — A prominent leader of India's Socialist party says Red China has prepared secret plans for establishing a Himalayan federation of border kingdoms and territories under her sovereignty and directed against India.

H.V. Kamath, chairman of the Socialist party of Madhya Pradesh state, made the charge at the end of a two-month tour of various regions bordering Red China. Kamath is a former member of the British-trained Indian civil service who resigned his post to join the freedom struggle under Gandhi. After independence, however, he left the Congress party to found the Socialist party of India.

Kamath toured Sikkim, Assam,

Kalimpong and other areas bordering Tibet, conferred with the Maharaja of Sikkim and met officials from Bhutan, another accessible Himalayan kingdom which can be reached from India only by crossing a small stretch of Tibetan territory.

MAPS FAVOR CHINA

He says Red China has not only committed "cartographic aggression" against India by redrawing border maps in her favor but has also "launched an insidious propaganda all along the Himalayan border for the inclusion of all Mongolian and Mongoloid peoples in the 'great Chinese family'."

He says he learned from "authentic" sources of a Chinese plan to bring together Nepal, Sikkim and Bhutan as well as the Indian territories of Ladakh and North East Frontier Agency in a "federation" closely tied to Tibet and Red China.

There have been some correspondence between New Delhi and Peiping on the latter's action showing some 30,000 miles of Indian territory as part of Red China on Chinese maps. The question repeatedly has cropped up in the Indian Parliament.

INDIAN REDS ACCUSED

He also alleged the Communist party of India planned to join hands with secret Communist agents infiltrating into Sikkim and Bhutan to foment violence and disorder in the two strategic kingdoms.

At a cluster of Chinese agents putting various obstacles in the way of Indians resuming trade with Tibet. All radio licences of Indian settlers had been confiscated.

Communist party circles in India have reacted sharply to Kamath's allegations. They say that they are "part of the smear campaign depicting Indian Communists as un-Indian."

Official circles in New Delhi have not commented on Kamath's charges.

OTTAWA REPORT

Tourism Second Largest Industry

Patrick Nicholson is on vacation. His guest columnist today is J. W. Murphy, Conservative M.P. for Lambton-West.

I have been interested in the tourist industry for 25 years, and in fact, my first speech in the House of Commons in 1945 was on the importance of this industry to our economy.

Tourism can become Canada's second largest industry. For years Canada has been neglecting this astounding dollar potential, which affects every Province, every Municipality and every segment of our economy.

During the session of Parliament which has just ended, the committee of mines, forests and waters, of which I am chairman, undertook a detailed investigation of the tourist industry and the Federal Government Travel Bureau was set up in 1934, and since that time has been under the administration of eleven different ministers.

Canada's greatest revenue from this industry should come from the United States, whose people are very travel conscious. There are areas in Canada, such as Sarnia, where, within one day's travel in the United States live more Americans than the total population of Canada.

It was revealed during the committee proceedings that several countries regard this industry important enough to have established a separate department of government. Many European countries, as well as Mexico and other countries, realize the value of the American tourist dollar. In the last seven years, Mexico increased its tourist income from the United States by 80 per cent. During the same period, Canada increased its tourist income by 11 per cent.

In 1958, Canada's travel deficit with all countries was $192 million, as compared with $162 million in 1957, and with the United States our travel deficit was $102 million in 1958, as compared with $78 million in 1957.

This, surely, is evidence that we are not making the right approach to increasing our tourist revenue, or that we are not spending enough money to obtain the tourist dollars. I maintain in 1945 that Canada should be having a billion dollar a year tourist revenue from the United States. Our revenue last year from all countries was only $332 million.

The Federal Government and the Provinces spent for advertising in the United States last year $2.6 million, and the State of Florida, as an illustration, spent over $4 million. This does not include the huge amount spent by Florida motel owners, etc.

From the evidence tabled before our committee, it was shown that for every dollar spent by Canada in the USA in promoting travel, $130 in United States currency was brought into this country. I suggested, without any hesitation, that our appropriation for advertising in the United States should be increased at least 25 per cent each year over the previous year.

I believe that the impact of the tourist industry upon our national economy has never been fully realized, but I also most sincerely believe that the present government realizes how important this industry is to our economy, and will take the necessary steps to make this a billion dollar a year industry.

The minister in charge is tourist minded and emphasized the importance of tourism during the committee hearings. Every Canadian, as well as all governments, has a responsibility to promote this industry. Each person can do his part by realizing that good service and courtesy are most essential.

PERSONALLY SPEAKING

By THE VENERABLE D. S. CATCHPOLE

SPECIALIST, AMATEUR OR QUACK?

The general public would be wise to choose the kind of person by whom it proposes to be advised. There are always those who look for advice to those who will give them what they want. People flock to phony healers when the best medical advice tells them only the truth which they do not want to hear. We relegate these Australian quacks to whom people went even from Canada for cure of cancer. On the other hand the advisor may be a well-intentioned amateur. His advice is nevertheless, despite his good intentions, unreliable. Editorial comment may be, in the realm of right and wrong, given either by a quack or an amateur. In certain fields it is not likely to be advice given by a specialist.

As an expert, my judgment is that gambling (in the accepted sense) is always wrong. It is an universal law that man is to live by his work, no matter what kind of work it may be. When a man gambles, he ventures (as a rule) sums of money in order that, by what is known as luck or chance, he may gain a large prize worth far more than he has put into the pot, and gain it without labour. I am not talking about investing money. I am not talking about the silly raffles in which kindly people adventure small amounts for charitable purposes. I am talking about gambling which is to the gambler a game of chance where Alcoholicism is the cool what drink one sometimes has on a hot day.

Editorial comment is probably quite right about the law concerning lotteries. I know nothing about that law. But when an editorial throws doubt on whether gambling is wrong, and implies that because a great many people approve of it it is not wrong, then, if people look at this sort of comment as the advice they want and approve, I say they are seeking advice from a quack. Lots of people approve of drinking alcoholic beverages but that does not make drunkenness right. We know, indeed, that for many people one drink is too much and spells ruin. For the sake of those people we should do well to govern ourselves very wisely indeed in this regard. Lots of people approve of illicit relations in the moral sphere. This does not make it correct or good procedure.

With this position I would think that editorial comment would agree. In that case, it should agree that degrees of gambling which lead people on and on in the mad desire to achieve wealth is wrong, no matter what a vast majority of the people say; and I should like to know whence comes the sure knowledge that the vast majority of the people does hold this point of view.

In any case, the duty of editorial comment is to lead public opinion into good paths. I freely grant that if the law is bad it should be revised but not on the assumption that gambling is good. Because I believe, from my knowledge as a specialist in the realm of human behaviour, that gambling is wrong, I will not have even games of chance at a bazaar in any church over which I have the oversight, and those who use these things as means of making easy money would do well to think again before they allow them to be held.

Royal Tour Coverage Arrangement Said Satisfactory To Reporters

In the last six weeks hundreds of thousands of Canadians have seen the Queen. They have watched from sidewalks and grandstands, from crowded country railroad platforms, from wharves and canal banks. A privileged few have exchanged words in receiving lines and sat down to dinner with the royal visitors.

But for every one whose proximity to the royal route permitted a sight of the Queen in person, a dozen have shared in the spirit of the occasion at second hand—through the eyes and ears of reporters and photographers whose duty it is to report and picture the tour for those unable to see it for themselves.

A press corps of some 50 newspaper, magazine, radio and television representatives travelled with the royal couple across the country and back. More than 2,000 others were accredited to share in local reporting and picture-taking as the party moved from point to point.

By and large, arrangements for coverage of the tour have been satisfactory to reporters and photographers.

Tour officials say there has not been a single objection by the Queen to the proximity of photographers. She and Prince Philip at times have thrown some sharp glances, but that's all.

Jack Hughes of the National Film Board, in charge of photographers, says his biggest headache used to be misunderstanding between police and photographers. But "now there is no shouting or tension between the two and this in turn has resulted in the royal couple being more relaxed... now the photographers get their shots quickly and get out the way."

This is the result of an innovation. On this tour the RCMP's duties have to do with security and only Hughes or his representatives, not the police, control the movements of photographers near the Queen. A trial run of this system was conducted in Ottawa in full co-operation with the RCMP. It worked well and is still working.

MOUNTIES POPULAR

A by-product of the system is that the RCMP, released from authority over press movements, is highly popular with the travelling press corps on this assignment.

There is no specific restriction on how closely reporters and photographers can approach the Queen, but the generally accepted rule is 10 to 15 feet. Photographers must necessarily be closer than reporters.

The travelling press corps is well aware of the unstated rules and observes them, but local photographers and reporters may not be and at times have had to be ordered back.

Relations between the viewing public and the news representatives have been generally good but there were a few incidents where they were slightly strained. The most obvious was at Whitehorse where reporters and photographers took some abuse from a small part of the crowd of 2,000.

The news representatives of course feel they can't do a proper job unless they stay close to Her Majesty. Many photographers voluntarily take their shots from a crouch to avoid blocking the view. Many have shot pictures for spectators who handed their cameras to them.

SPECTATORS IRKED

What occasional complaints there have come not from the royal party but from spectators irked at having their view obscured.

CUNNING PROPAGANDIST

That was before Nixon's visit and the Nixon-Khrushchev bare-knuckles debate before the Moscow television cameras. Eisenhower thought Nixon acquitted himself "splendidly." To many an observer it appeared Khrushchev showed himself as a shrewd and cunning propagandist.

How would the 68-year-old Eisenhower fare against him in a verbal propaganda fight? Despite three major illnesses including a heart attack and a slight stroke, Eisenhower is alert and ever-conscious of honesty and integrity in government.

But there is no doubt the illnesses have left their mark, giving rise to questions of how the president would make out with the wily Khrushchev.

Khrushchev's Propaganda Skill May Block U.S. Visit

WASHINGTON (CP)—President Eisenhower still seems cool to the idea of inviting Premier Khrushchev to the United States.

Some observers suggest that among the reasons is the lack of East-West progress at Geneva. Another may be Khrushchev's propaganda skill.

The president's coolness was evident at his press conference. Reporters observed that Vice President Nixon appeared to be considering whether to recommend that Khrushchev be given an invitation.

Well, replied the president, Nixon had every right to discuss the merits of such a visit but he had no right to proffer any invitation. That, of course, is the prerogative of the president.

But he didn't say any invitation would be forthcoming.

Philip Never Heard Of Chiropractic

BRANDON (CP)—Dr. C. E. Webb, a chiropractor and Brandon alderman, says that Prince Philip had never heard of his profession.

When Alderman Webb was presented to the prince, he was asked: "You're a doctor—a doctor of what?"

"A doctor of chiropractic," said the alderman.

"Chiropractic? What's that?" asked the prince.

"I didn't take time to explain it to the prince," said the alderman later.

The prince was heard asking Mrs. James Croighton, wife of Brandon's mayor: "Chiropractor—is that a foot specialist?"

A chiropractor treats foot ailments. A chiropractor is one who practises manipulation of the spinal column as a method of curing disease.

Population To Double?

MELBOURNE (CP)—Economist Sir Douglas Copland, former Australian high commissioner in Canada, predicts Australia will double its population to 20,000,000 by 1990 and treble it to 30,000,000 a decade later.

With this stake ahead, Australia must plan for higher standards of living, higher efficiency in all phases of economic enterprise and improved community life, he told the Australian administrative staff college.

Australia could not afford to be afraid of growth. Any idea there should be a stepping down of immigration was the fear of people who were afraid of growth.

"It will be men, not money that will make a great Australia," he said.

Forecast High Traffic Toll

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian Highway Safety Conference, campaigning to cut down holiday traffic deaths, has forecast that 22 persons will be killed on Canadian highways on the approaching civic holiday weekend.

That would be the same number of highway fatalities as last year's civic holiday weekend.

Civic holiday is observed only in parts of Canada—in Ontario, parts of Alberta and a few large centres in Manitoba.

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—Patrolman Donald Ray went to nearby North Beach to investigate a drowning. He discovered the victim was his own son, Stephen, 8.

Ceylonese Pair May Institute 'Peg Innovations'

WINNIPEG (CP)—Ceylon may never resemble Manitoba but two Ceylonese municipal inspectors could institute some Winnipeg innovations when they return home.

D. M. S. Dissanayake and K. T. Warnakulasuriya are Colombo plan trainees now conducting a three-month study of municipal affairs with the provincial department.

They have encountered no language barrier and little cultural confusion as English is the second tongue in Ceylon, and study of Canada's economics, geography and history are included in Ceylonese school programs.

While slightly dismayed at Canadians' lack of knowledge of Ceylon they are impressed with the friendliness and progress found here.

The technical and economic achievements were the first thing that struck Mr. Warnakulasuriya. "We are an old country—over 2,000 years old, and we are impressed with the development of Canada in the last 100 years."

"In Winnipeg," Mr. Dissanayake said, "everything is so fast. The whole city seems to move. There are so many cars."

Their studies have just begun but even at this stage they are interested in Canadian governmental office efficiency and mechanization and the consequent saving in manpower.

Following their studies they will tour Manitoba for five weeks then move on to Toronto for another three-month course. On return to Ceylon they will include in their report recommendations for adoption of Canadian methods which might feasibly be used in Ceylon.

Alaskans Plan Five Atomic Blasts To Create Harbor

By EDNA ATKINSON

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (Reuters)—A comprehensive survey of the complex problem of using atomic explosions to create a harbor has started in Alaska.

Tentative plans call for five underground nuclear blasts which would "dig" a channel of about 250 yards by 600 yards and a harbor of some 550 yards by 900 yards.

The explosions would take place on Ogoluk Creek on Alaska's remote northwest coast.

Though the proposed site is near Cape Thompson, on the northwest coast, an over-all study of surrounding areas will be made.

PROJECT CHARIOT

Project Chariot, as the proposed harbor excavation has been named, is a part of Operation Plowshare, a program to utilize the atom for peaceful purposes under the direction of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The studies being undertaken during 1959 are aimed at determining safety features of the experiment and to suggest a suitable time for setting off the atomic blasts.

Scientists will invade wildlife domains of fowl and fish, study feeding habits, observe caribou herd migration patterns and get other significant biological data. Individual field workers will scramble up sea cliffs, peer into fresh water and probe beneath the sea to trace the biotic links of the region.

MAIN OBJECTIVES

The major objectives of the survey are to obtain engineering and geological data, make an inventory of plant and animal life in the vicinity of the site and study human geography and harbor performance of Tschalkowsky's Fourth Symphony to the eruption of a volcano.

The conductor returns to Edmonton this fall to resume his post as conductor there for the 1959-60 season.

REGINA (CP)—Walter Michel of St. Gregor, Sask., took the majority of the swine championships with his landrace swine at the provincial exhibition here.

REBEL ATTACKS
ALGIERS (AP)—A rebel commando attacked an open air feast at Bougie, in eastern Algeria, and for a few moments held the crowd under heavy fire. Two children—one European and one Moslem—were killed and 11 other people injured. Near Massena, a mine exploded while four Moslems riding donkeys were passing by. All four were killed.

AQUATIC RIPPLES

Hello Everyone:

This is really a busy time for everybody, the girls at the Aquatic are working frantically day and night to complete arrangements for the Regatta so close at hand—August 12 to 15. Hope you have spoken for your reserved seats because the show will be really worth seeing from what I have heard and seen.

One of the busiest bees down at the Aquatic is Bill Jennings. I hear he is thinking of opening up his own millinery business, with perhaps a few wigs thrown in.

Bill Woods has been doing a tremendous job with the nine to 12 group in speed swimming. Good work, Bill, it is great to hear of our own youngsters getting into this highly competitive sport.

Compliments are still being heard about the improvement in the boys' dressing rooms. The Ladies' Aquatic Auxiliary undertook to see that this was carried out.

These ladies are asked to turn in their money on membership sales as soon as possible. A big thank you goes out to Miss Marjory Crofton and Mrs. R. L. Orsi for the time and work they have put out on this effort.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Dillabaugh are loaning their lovely lakeside home for the teen town annual beach party. Mrs. J. W. Pavle is working along with Teen Town in an advisory capacity. A bar, music, and dancing will be enjoyed by all these merry young people, and if it is half the success it was last year, it will be a real party.

The competitors' dance this year will be again sponsored by Teen Town, and will this year be attended by the Queen (Lady-of-the-Lake). Great credit should be given to these Teen Towners who have been doing such a wonderful job on the numerous affairs they have looked after.

The weekly aquacade has been outstanding, with a band in attendance, good crowds, and top entertainment. It is your attendance that makes this possible and encourages our young people to perform.

A buffet supper party for coaches and officials, which includes local officials, in fact all the people who make the events possible, is being planned at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson. Thanks to you Catherine and Walter, it is events like this that create good fellowship and form new ideas for future events.

Social and refreshment committee Mrs. Percy Perkins and Mrs. Ian Collison are doing a tremendous job on the many arrangements that must be made prior to the Regatta.

Joan McKinley and all her costume committee under the sponsorship of Mrs. George Daft are hard at it. Don't miss any of this year's exciting Regatta, it is more gay and colorful than ever.

Be seeing you, OGO

Charming Ceremony At Vernon For Granddaughter Of Pioneer

VERNON (Special) — The traditional pure white, toe-touching gown, worn by Elizabeth (Betty) Marie Fulton for her marriage to Harvey Ronald Gee, was classic in its simplicity, and set the tone for the evening ceremony in Vernon United Church.

Reverend Arthur W. Dobson officiated at the rites when the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fulton and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray R. Gee pledged their marriage vows.

Parents of the principals are well known residents of this city; the bride's grandfather, Clarence Fulton, Sr., being one of Vernon's pioneers, and the first high school teacher in this community. He is also a recent "Good Citizen".

The pristine, frost folds of the bride's gown of beau de soie were appliqued with flowers, and billowed to the floor from a snug-fitting bodice. Sleeves were Uly point. A pearl tiara held the filmy shoulder-length veil, and she carried a hand spray of white carnations and stephanotis. She was preceded down the aisle by two attendants. Matron of honor was Mrs. Bert Gibson, of Alberni, and bridesmaid Miss Aileen Gee, who wore identical, waltz-length frocks of white nylon embossed with Wedgewood blue, with blue sashes. Blue velvet bandeaus were worn in their hair, and their handsprays were of white summer flowers.

Murray Thom was groomsmen. Ushers were Douglas Gee and John Fulton.

Mrs. Ella Gaunt Stevenson presided at the organ console. A reception at Orchardleigh Lodge, Coldstream, followed the ceremony, attended by 120 guests.

Assisting the bridal party to receive were parents of the principals. The bride's mother wore a beige lace sheath with picture hat en tone, and a corsage of gold and orange carnations. The groom's mother chose a gown of blue wool lace, also in sheath style; matching flowered hat, and a white carnation corsage.

Robert Clarke proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded. Murray Thom proposed the health of the bridesmaids. Clarence Fulton, Sr., proposed a toast to Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fulton, III, who were married in Kingston, Ont. Toastmaster was Clarence Fulton, II.

The bride and groom left for a honeymoon trip to an undisclosed destination. Upon their return, they will take up residence in Vernon.

PEACHLAND

PEACHLAND — Mr. Norman H. Schulberg, of New Westminster, is to be the new principal at the elementary school next term, and will be teaching grades five and six. Mr. Schulberg taught at Hammond last term and is attending Union College during the summer holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Coleman and three children were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sanderson.

Mrs. Dave Fridge with her two children, Lois and Evelyn, are holidaying with Mrs. Fridge's mother, Mrs. Fred Topham, Sr.

Leaving for Okanagan Anglican Camp this week were Sharon Kopp, leader of Intermediate girls; Mrs. J. Wilds, camp mother; Margaret MacNeill and Brenda Bullock. Returning from camp were Gwen Garraway and Zandra Birkeland.

Sharon Kopp has returned from a three week holiday spent in Burlington, Wash., visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Paquet of North Vancouver, have been visiting the latter's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Aaron Davidson, Trepanier.

Pretty Kitchen Effect Possible With New Do-It-Yourself Tiles

By ELEANOR ROSS

The old advice to come out of the kitchen to enjoy life doesn't seem to hold good any more. To many a homemaker, the kitchen is a favorite room. It's not great hardship for her to spend a large part of her working day there, for much of the drudgery connected with meal preparation is now minimized.

Then, too, her workshop is apt to be a pretty, inviting room. With the old white kitchen, that looked something like a science lab happily a thing of the past, the modern kitchen is now a delightful spot.

Much artistic designing has gone into achieving that result. Apart from the fresh, imaginative use of color for practically every bit of equipment, some of the new plastic wall and floor coverings offer further proof. For instance, there's a handsome, polka-dotted plastic floor tile you can install yourself. It consists of big squares of contrasting colors all with different-sized holes in them. The holes are to be filled in with colorful polka dots, arranged to suit your own fancy. These polka dots come with the tiles, of course, and are cut to fit exactly into the holes.

PLASTIC FOR WALLS Plastic wall coverings are equally attractive and long-lasting.

Wide stripes that look very smart indeed are featured by some designers. Or maybe you'd like a white background wall covering with tiny copper utensils printed on it. This one has its own adhesive backing, easy to smooth into wall surfaces.

All of this merchandise is easy to obtain, easy to install and easy to keep clean and fresh-looking.

A peak attendance of 10,000 is expected at the New Westminster convention which is the last of a series of 30 such assemblies that have been arranged for Canada, the United States and Iceland.

"The purpose of the meeting," said Mr. Chamberlain, "is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and enable them to apply Bible principles more fully to their everyday lives and activities in spite of threatening world conditions. For this reason the program carries the theme 'Awake Ministers!'"

There will be morning, afternoon and evening sessions devoted to Bible talks, discussions and practical demonstrations, he explained.

Mr. Chamberlain further reported that the highlight of the entire program will be the public address by special representative of the Watch Tower Society at 3 p.m. Sunday, September 6, on "When God Speaks Peace to All Nations."

A former moderator of The United Church of Canada, the Very Rev. J. S. Thomson, and Mrs. Thomson will visit in France and Brazil where Dr. Thomson is a delegate to the International Missionary Council Committee, and to the Alliance of Reformed Churches holding the Presbyterian Order.

Ruth Accepted In Israel Though A Stranger There

MEMORY VERSE

"He doth execute the judgment of the fatherless and widow, and loveth the stranger, in giving him food and raiment. Love ye therefore the stranger: for ye were strangers in the land of Egypt." — Deuteronomy 10:18-19.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

The book of Ruth is the heart-warming story of a stranger in a country being made welcome and loved in spite of being an alien.

There was a famine in the land of Judah, and a man named Elimelech, with his wife and two sons, left his home and "went to sojourn in the country of Moab." — Ruth 1:1. His wife's name was Naomi, and his two sons were Mahlon and Chilion. Elimelech died there. One of his sons married a woman named Orpah, of Moab, and the other wed Ruth. — Ruth 1:4.

After about 10 years both of the sons of Naomi died too, leaving the three women widows. Then Naomi decided to return to the country of Judah, "for she had heard in the country of Moab how the Lord had visited His people in giving them bread." — Ruth 1:6.

With her two daughters-in-law

she began the journey back to Judah. She told each daughter-in-law to return to her mother's house. "The Lord deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me." — Ruth 1:7-8.

Then she kissed both of them and they wept. Orpah went, but Ruth clung to Naomi, saying, "Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God. Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the Lord do so to me, and more also, if I ought but death part thee and me." — Ruth 1:16-17.

In our day we hear and read many stories and jokes of mothers-in-law who make the lives of their daughters-in-law miserable by their interference in their affairs or by unkind words and actions. I am very sure, however, that there are many more loving and helpful mothers-in-law in the world, like Naomi.

When the two women came to Bethlehem, people recognized Naomi. She told them of her bereavements and doubtless received their sympathy.

Now "Naomi had a kinsman of her husband's, a mighty man of wealth; . . . and his name was Boaz." — Ruth 2:1.

Ruth said to Naomi: "Let me now go to the field, and glean ears of corn after him in whose sight I shall find grace." Naomi said to her, "Go, my daughter." So Ruth the Moabite went into Boaz's field and worked there. Boaz saw her and asked his reapers who she was. The servant who was set over the reapers answered, "It is the Moabite damsel that came back with Naomi out of the country of Moab."

Ruth begged Boaz to let her glean in his fields and he told her that he had commanded his reapers not to molest her. When she was thirsty she should partake of water that the men had drawn, and when hungry she was welcome to eat with the others.

Ruth was so grateful to Boaz that "she bowed herself to the ground," thanking him for his kindness to her, a stranger. — Ruth 2:2-10.

Boaz also gave Ruth a gift of six measures of barley for her and her mother-in-law. He also bought all the land that had been Elimelech's and gave it to Ruth. And she became Boaz's wife and bore him a son, whom Naomi took in her arms and cared for. He was named Obed. "And the women her neighbors gave it a name, saying, 'There is a son born to Naomi; and they called his name Obed; he is the father of Jesse, the father of David.'" — Ruth 4:13-17.

So Ruth, the one-time stranger in the land, became famous and beloved.

In our country we have many immigrants from foreign lands who are strangers at first, having to learn our language and adapt themselves to our ways of living. Children encounter them in school and we adults meet them in our churches, our businesses and socially. Do we make them welcome and become their friends? Let us all teach the children the moral of this beautiful story and ask them to memorize the Golden Text that is part of the lesson.

THE GOLDEN TEXT

Love Of Country Fed By Snobbery

By GEORGE W. INGLIS
 Courier Staff Writer

"What does a gal have to do, to be recognized?"

This is a question that 25-year-old Irene MacDonald must ask herself many times—except when she's up there on a spring board or a ten metre tower trying to bring some honor and glory to Canada.

It is a question that must have burned deep in her breast two years ago, when the Olympic committee practically had to be dynamited before they would even include her on the team, and then refused to let her take her own coach.

It is a question that must have given her some pause when she worked at two jobs—bank teller in the daytime, and swimming instructor-lifeguard during the evening—in order to be able to pay her way to AAU meets, where she would heap unprecedented glory on Canada.

She must have had some twinge of doubt in her own, her native land as she hitch-hiked her way to Canadian championship competitions, worked for her keep in order to be able to train for the Olympics, and has endured the chilly silence of national newspapers for the most part.

Surely she has had moments of wonderment as she forced grudging admiration from the "homers" across the border by her sheer artistry, particularly in her winning both the three and one metre national AAU title, and coming a close second to Paula Jean Meyer in the tower, and yet hardly even created a ripple in the hardy even created a ripple in her own country.

But through it all this gallant little gal has remained unwaveringly loyal to the land of the maple leaf.

The latest piece of perfidy was a letter, drafted by a Toronto lawyer, challenging Irene's eligibility to compete for Canada.

Why, indeed? Because this little gal has no place in Canada in which she can train for the length of time necessary to become a championship diver. Each year she returns to Kelowna, her second home, and trains in one of the two pools in Canada that has a ten-metre tower (the other is in Vancouver).

Each year she competed in Canadian championships, paying her own way to and from. She has asked for a dime from anyone in Canada, and yet she has insisted on her Canadian affiliation whenever she has been interviewed by the press. She's a Canadian, and proud of it, but maybe not always happy with it.

Even in national stories which were written about her prior to the B.C.G. her story was written without any mention of Dr. George Athans, her inspiration from the days when she was just a raw kid with not much more than a smattering of talent, and her coach in her annual sojourns in Kelowna.

The name of the city itself, which has taken Irene to its bosom, and regards her as a native daughter, was also neatly avoided.

In fact, if it wasn't for Kelowna and the Regatta, Irene might even take exception to her treatment as sports "forgotten woman", and thumb her nose at the Maple Leaf.

As it is, she has to take the admiration of the Orchard City residents and visitors, and make it do for the whole of Canada.

Should she ever tire of so doing, Canada would be the loser.

BIG LEAGUE IN HUSTLE

"Go, man, go!" These Little Leaguers are really big league in their hustle, as seen at last night's interior semi-final game in Kelowna's LL Park.

Penticton's second baseman Ray Cutler is flying through the air in his try for third, while Kelowna's Allan Edmunds stretches for ball and umpire Art Fisher is right on top of the play. Penticton beat Kelowna 15-8 and play Trail tonight at 6:30.

Penticton Little League Win In Close Joust With Kelowna

The Kelowna All-Stars came up with a gallant try before being knocked out of the southern interior Little League semi-finals by the polished Penticton club, 15-8.

The Peach City boys meet Trail tonight at 6:30 for the southern interior decision, then the play-offs move to Penticton, with Prince George being the next opponent.

A doubleheader Saturday in Penticton will resolve the finalists, and on Monday at 6:30 Penticton will host the first Western Canada Little League championship series ever staged.

EIGHT RUN BOMBING

Kelowna's Ron Saucier did a fine job of containing the more experienced, better polished southern boys for four innings, although they started to get to him in the fifth. Farley Smith, Allan Edmunds and Campbell took turns at the mound chores in the fifth, with Campbell taking a bombing for eight runs in the sixth.

Denny Folk pitched the first two frames for Penticton, with Ollie Hausberg coming to finish the game.

Don Gougeon was the big stickler for the southerners, slugging out a singleton homer and a single for a two-for-three rating.

Eric Sollosy, who hit two-for-four for Kelowna, started off with a single in the first, and bases were loaded on two fielders' choices. Smith walked, to bring Sollosy in with the first Kelowna run.

In the third, Cutler singled for Penticton, moved around and came home on a second base error, tying the score.

Singles by Baldock, Paulson and Cutler added up to two runs for Penticton in the fourth, but Kelowna came right back on a double by Schleppe, a hit-pitcher to Doug Thompson and a walk to Bailey to tie up the score.

CONTROL WAVERS

Penticton parlayed Saucier's wavering control into four runs in the fifth, collecting five walks, and two hits, one of them Gougeon's singleton homer.

The Kelowna club roared right back in their half of the frame, on hits by Saucier, Edmunds, Howard and Schleppe to count five and take the lead again.

Kelowna ran right out of hurling staff then, and Penticton parlayed four walks and four hits into eight runs, too much to overcome.

Trail meets Penticton at 6:30 tonight.

Labs Lick Sox In Hot Tussle

The Labs shrugged off their hitting problems last night and beat Penticton Red Sox 9-6 under the lights in Elks' Stadium, before the best crowd of the league schedule.

Bob Campbell, playing back in his old left-field spot, slammed out a two-run homer to start the proceedings in the third, and the Labs added two three-run frames and an eighth-inning single.

Chunky Lloyd Burgart, the Sox sully short, smacked out a two-run homer on his own hook, but the Sox weren't able to get a rally going.

Jack Denbow started and went 2 1/2 frames for the win, with Les Schaefer coming in to protect the victory. Bud Englesby went all the way for the Sox in the first time he has bowed to his former team-mates this season.

TOP STICK MEN

Leo Petty's three-for-four and Hank Tostenson's three-for-five were the top hit records for the Labs, with Charlie Preen's three-for-five best in the Penticton cause.

The clubs meet tonight in the each City for the second leg of their back-to-back series, with the Labs determined to do it again.

Tostenson singled in the third and Campbell drove him home with his four-bagger.

Preen singled in the top of the fourth and Burgart drove him home with a circuit clout.

In the bottom of the fourth, Petty singled and North doubled, driving Petty in. Bob Radies singled, driving North home. Denbow singled and Ito singled to load the sacks.

Tostenson drove Radies home and the rally died at three runs.

Richards scored in the top of the fifth, driving one to centre field and scoring on Preen's long single.

Frank Fritz walked in the bottom of the fifth, Goyer made first on a bad throw and Fritz scored. Petty singled, scoring Goyer, and tallied himself on Radies' sacrifice.

Richards made first on an error and was driven home by Allan Richards' double, in the sixth, and Penticton counted another in the seventh as Al Richards drove in Andrews.

Penticton got within striking distance in the eighth as Hale scored Day, but Kelowna countered with one in the bottom of the eighth, Tostenson driving Schaefer home, and it was the ball game.

B.C. Teen-Ager Seeks Golf Win

MONTREAL (CP) — Two provincial champions — 16-year-old Gordon Leriche of Montreal, Quebec, and Alan Kennedy, 18-year-old British Columbia champion from Vancouver—face a 36-hole grind today for the Canadian junior golf championship.

Leriche, a tall, blonde youngster with plenty of confidence, reached the final by turning back Phil Brownlee of Toronto 3 and 2 in a semi-final Thursday.

Kennedy, shorter but compact and capable of sound golf, upset defending champion Bobby Panasiuk of Windsor, Ont., by coming from behind on the back nine, wiping out a three-hole deficit and scoring a one-up victory.

Leriche showed his best golf from the front nine, shooting a one-under-par medal 34 and making the turn two up. Thereafter he was over par more often than even but Brownlee was the same way and the match wobbled on unsteadily to finish on the sixteenth.

Kennedy played superb golf despite the three-hole setback before he could start to bite into Panasiuk's lead.

The young golfer from Vancouver's Marine Drive Club was in the perplexing situation of hitting par at the first eight holes.

and finding himself then three holes in arrears.

DIDN'T FAZE HIM

"I didn't let that situation along the front nine worry me," Kennedy said afterward. "I made up my mind that if he was that hot there wasn't much I could do about it."

Over the 18-hole stretch Kennedy was over par only at the 11th. His medal score was 69, one under par, against a par 70 for Panasiuk.

The two finalists are scheduled to start out on the morning round today at 10 a.m. EDT, with afternoon round starting at 2 p.m.

Washington	43	58	.426	16 1/2

Where do the Kansas City Athletics go from here? They've pulled off an incredible jump from the cellar to third place with an 11-game streak, longest in the American League in five years, but can they crack the exclusive, two-club "first division?"

The Athletics, making their run in just 11 days, moved past Baltimore into third by whipping Washington 4-1 Thursday night. But they still trail Chicago's first-place White Sox by 8 1/2 games and second-place Cleveland by 7 1/2 after making up 3 1/2 games on the leaders.

The White Sox kept their tough post-all star game pace with a 1-0 victory over New York, plunging the world champion Yankees 10 1/2 games behind as Early Wynn (14-6) became the AL's top winner. It was the Sox' 15th victory in 20 games since the all-star break.

The Indians stayed close by beating Boston 4-3 with Minnie Miroszo driving in all their runs. Detroit tied New York for fifth by rapping Baltimore 11-2.

Southpaw Bud Daley, after missing his regular turn because of a leg injury, blanked the Senators on six hits for six innings, then needed Tom Sturdivant's neat relief for a 12-4 record. That ties the Kansas City record for most victories in one season set by Art Ditmar in 1955 and tied Wynn put away his 263rd victory, tops among active major leaguers, beat Hal Griggs (2-8) with two runs in the second, counting the clincher on Bill Tuttle's single. That gave them the longest streak in the AL since the Yankees (who open a three-game series there tonight) won 13 straight in 1954.

Cleveland ended its slump at two games when Minoszo's third single cracked a 3-3 tie in the ninth against losing reliever Mike Fornieles (1-2). Minnie had given Starter Mudcat Grant a 3-0 lead with two singles, but Frank Malone's 14th home run tied it in the sixth and left the victory for reliever Larry Locke (2-1).

Ted Lepcio and Coot Veal each drove in three runs for the Tigers and Al Kaline hit his 17th homer. Frank Lary (13-7) won it with a seven-hitter. Billy O'Dell (6-8) was the loser.

Als Cut Import Roster By Two

MONTREAL (CP) — Montreal Alouettes of the Big Four football league have dropped two imports — fullback Bob Barrett and guard Dick Regan.

Regan had been impressive in practice, but at 195 pounds was considered too small for big four line play.

But the Als picked up a hometown. Johnny Bennett, cut by Calgary Stampeders, agreed to try out with the Als.

Bennett, a star receiver with McGill University Redmen, was considered one of the best receivers in the Stampeders' camp last season.

Alouettes are concentrating on their game next Tuesday with Winnipeg Blue Bombers. They have been staging full-dress workouts in anticipation of the exhibition game.

Toronto Suburb May Steal March

TORONTO (CP) — A suburban township may steal a march on Toronto by getting into major baseball via the third league.

Jack Kent Cooke, owner of Toronto Maple Leafs, says he's all for it.

Reeve Ozzie Waffle of Etobicoke, on the western outskirts of the metropolitan area, said Thursday township officials have been negotiating for a seven-months plan to build a ball park capable of holding 60,000 spectators.

Toronto city authorities have shown no great enthusiasm for going into the stadium business.

Hungry Beavers Jump To Second

Portland's hungry Beavers captured into second place in the Pacific Coast League pennant chase last night as the already-terrible battle for the flag tightened up even further.

Only six games separate first-place Vancouver from seventh-place San Diego. Seattle's last-place Rainiers would appear to be out of it at 10 1/2 games behind.

The Beavers, making most of every break, stopped the second-place Sacramento Solons 3-1 while Phoenix Giants tamed the Mounties 4-2.

San Diego's Padres rapped Seattle for the third straight time, 4-2, and the Spokane Indians drubbed the Salt Lake City Bees 10-4.

The Mounties managed only five hits off southpaw Marshall Renfro, who struck out seven and walked four while working the distance for the Giants. Bob Speake, who took over first base for Phoenix after the San Francisco Giants called up Willie McCovey, and Jim Briedewer slammed out solo homers for the winners.

Dutchies Lead For Quarter, Stamps Make Stiff Comeback

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP) — Bob Celari's throwing arm gave Calgary Stampeders an early scare Thursday night but the westerners quickly gathered their forces and rolled to a 21-8 exhibition football victory over Kitchener-Waterloo Dutchmen.

The win before about 3,000 fans was Calgary's first on the pre-season circuit this year and was highlighted by the fine performance of quarterback Nobby Wirkowski, who went all the way while Joey Kupp recuperated from a civil war incident.

For a time it appeared the Ontario Rugby Football Union club might get their revenge against the pros, who kicked the ORFU game of the year.

out of Grey Cup competition two years ago.

FIRST-QUARTER LEAD

After Bernie Cusick had been rouged on a Ted Duncan kick for a one-point Calgary margin, the Dutchies launched an offensive. Celari's passing terror of the ORFU, threw a 40-yarder to Jerry Myers who ran another 24 yards for a touchdown without being touched.

Mike Norich converted and Celari kicked a single as Kitchener closed out the first quarter with an 8-1 lead.

Wirkowski then went to the air and baffled the Dutchmen, who were playing their first game of the year.

TORONTO (CP) — Al Balding, 16, fired a brilliant round of 69 to win the Millar Cup golf tournament today, defeating Stan Korman of Hamilton 4 and 3. He needed one more hole in his second round as he fired seven birdies to beat Jim Maxwell of Toronto 5 and 2.

Wily Veteran QB Helps Edge Lions

OTTAWA (CP) — A speedy, first-year import quarterback and a veteran passing artist brought in from Western Canada look like the main cogs in Ottawa Rough Riders' wheel of fortune in the Big Four Football League this season.

Halfback Don Clark and Frank Tripucka, veteran Saskatchewan Roughriders quarterback, turned in outstanding performances Thursday night as Riders de- feated British Columbia Lions of the western football conference 24-22 in an exhibition game be- fore about 10,000 fans.

Tripucka's outstanding signal- calling left little doubt that Rid- ers would put rookie import quar- ter Don Allard of Boston College on the trading market and use home brew Russ Jackson as Tripucka's understudy.

Riders are reported dickering with Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders for a top import end in a trade for Allard but no deal has developed as yet.

Tripucka tossed two touchdown passes and accounted for most of Riders' 17 completions and 251 yards gained on 28 attempts.

Clark, a 190-pound speedster from Ohio State, provided a big share of Riders' 181-yards rush- ing and caught several long passes.

Willie Fleming, Ed Vereb and Don Vicle were the leading ball- carriers for Lions.

Tempers flared twice during the game and resulted in three players being tossed out by of- ficials. Given the gate were guard Larry Hayes and tackle Ed Denk of Ottawa and Lions' Jerry Jones.

Gerry Nesbitt kicked a single and end Mack Yoho added a 20- yard field goal as Riders broke into a 4-0 lead at the end of the first quarter. They added a touchdown in the opening min- utes of the second quarter on Nesbitt's 12-yard plunge.

Harold Sparrow put Lions on the score sheet late in the sec- ond quarter with a 50-yard single but Riders came back to make it 17-1 on Tripucka's 25-yard pass and a 24-yard touchdown run by Davey West.

A Rider fumble early in the third quarter set up Lions' first touchdown, an 18-yard pass by quarterback Al Dorow to Paul Cameron. Ted Hunt kicked the first of his three converts.

Lions got another break min- utes later when Clark fumbled Ottawa's 22. Several plays later Bill Britton barged over from the two-yard line.

Tripucka tossed a 13-yard pass to end Bob Simpson and Mack Yoho converted for Ottawa's 11-10 lead at the end of the third quarter.

Mr. B.C. Motorist Discovers Why...

you get more miles per gallon

from

EXPERT: Chevron Supreme keeps the combustion chamber clean because it burns clean.

MR. B.C. And does it increase mileage?

EXPERT: Yes! Deposits in the combustion chamber cause gasoline to burn unevenly and waste power. Chevron Supreme leaves no deposits. All gasoline is burned, none wasted.

MR. B.C. How can I prove it?

EXPERT: The simplest way is to con- duct the "Supreme" Mileage test for your- self.

Pick up a copy of Standard's "Gasoline Mileage Record" from any Standard Station or Chevron Dealer when you fill your tank with Chevron Supreme. And, incident- ally, if you drive a car that runs on regular grade gasoline, you can drive a bargain by using Chevron "regular".

New Tube Helps Give Artificial Respiration

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

A handy new device, now available at drug stores throughout most of the nation, might help save many lives in the years to come.

It's a simple new "breathing tube" for administering artificial respiration. It is based on the technique of mouth-to-mouth breathing and is said to be far more effective than any of the present usually known methods of artificial respiration.

EASIEST WAY

From time to time I have given you detailed instructions in the mouth-to-mouth breathing method and have said that it seems the easiest and best way to aid breathing.

Now this new device makes it even easier.

It is a pocket-sized "S" shaped tube of translucent white plastic. Its purpose is to help revive persons who are not breathing and to keep air passages open for persons who are breathing but are not conscious.

FOR ANY VICTIM

The tube can be used to aid victims of drowning, electric shock, smoke or gas inhalation, drug or chemical poisoning, cardiac arrest, brain injury and shock from loss of blood.

One end of the tube acts as a mouthpiece for the rescuer. The other end, inserted over the victim's tongue to its base, provides the breathing tube.

1. Pass. The two club rebid by partner identifies a close to minimum opening bid. Since it is obviously impossible for our hand to produce a game opposite a minimum opening, the only question to be settled is the best part score contract.

There is not much chance of improving the contract by bidding again. A two diamond bid, being a change of suit by the responder, would compel North to speak once more. But the hand is not strong enough to insist that partner continue bidding. Though the singleton club is certainly not a pleasant feature, there is no need to panic. The chances are partner has a six-card suit. Two clubs might be the best contract.

2. Three notrump. An opening bid facing an opening bid means game. No risk should be run of stopping short of game. A two notrump bid, for instance, is not forcing and partner is permitted to pass if he has run out of bids. With all suits stopped and the important queen of clubs to fill out partner's long suit, game in notrump is very likely to be made.

3. Three clubs. This bid invites partner to continue despite his previous signoff. If he is unable to do so, it is unlikely a game can be made. While it is true that a six-card major suit is generally rebid at the first opportunity, it is more important in this case to show the club fit than to suppress it in favor of showing the spade length.

A two spade bid would run the risk of missing a club game; a three spade bid would improperly commit the partnership to a game undertaking.

If North, over three clubs, bids three notrump or four clubs, a spade rebid would then be in order.

4. Three clubs. Here again we bid three clubs although the hand is quite different from the preceding one. If you ask how partner is to know whether we have this hand or the other, the answer is he doesn't know. All that North knows is that we think game is possible. We may have distributional values, or high-card values, or both. He bids again, according to his hand, if he has values in reserve.

If North, over three clubs, bids three notrump, we pass. If he bids four clubs over three clubs, we also pass.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

By ESTRELLITA

FOR TOMORROW

A highly stimulating day! Much can be accomplished if you put forth your best efforts and co-operate with one and all. Travel and outdoor pursuits are under especially good aspects.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that many heartwarming experiences should make this new year in your life a memorable one. Your planetary aspects are excellent, not only where personal matters are concerned, but in job affairs, too. In the latter connection, your efforts should produce fine results in October and, in the former, the starts promise great happiness in social and domestic relationships. Romance is also favored—especially in late November, December, May and June.

You may face some financial problems during the next four months, but they could be the result of unwise spending. There are no adverse influences governing monetary gain, but the aspects do indicate tendencies toward extravagance on your part. Be forewarned, therefore, and, with your usual practicality, curb these inclinations. Business expansion is indicated in late December and early 1960.

A child born on this day will be highly intelligent and endowed with the qualities needed to make a fine executive or leader in public affairs.

Strange Marine Reptile's Bones Unearthed

MIAMI, Man. (CP) — A bulldozer doing strip mining in the Miami district 60 miles southwest of Winnipeg recently uncovered the shoulder bone and flipper of a strange marine reptile.

Peter Roberts, an employee of Pembina Mountain Clay Company, and Jack Westway, both of Miami, reported their find to Dick Sutton, curator of the Manitoba Museum in Winnipeg.

The specimen, protected from the weather by chemicals, was taken from the site to Winnipeg. It was found to be part of a mosasaur—a huge swimming reptile that propelled itself through a salt water sea covering the area 70,000,000 years ago.

The first specimen of a mosasaur was discovered along the banks of the Meuse River in Holland in 1795. An earlier hint of its existence in Manitoba was found in a section of vertebrae, teeth and toe bones, suggesting the species was once native to the area.

The fossil of the creature that pushed itself through water using four flippers and powerful tail was found in cretaceous shale, Mr. Sutton said. It will be assembled and prepared for display in the Manitoba Museum.

MERRY MENAGERIE

This leaves the rescuer's hands free to keep the victim's head tilted back and his chin upward. And this is important, because the air passageway is blocked when the victim's neck is bent.

PREVENTS AIR LEAKAGE

The tube is fitted with a flange which covers the victim's mouth to prevent air leakage. It is manufactured in two sizes, one for younger children and infants and one for adults and children over the age of three.

The mouth-to-mouth method is much easier to learn and to perform than the manual methods of applying artificial respiration.

MOVES MORE AIR

More important, it moves a greater volume of air into the lungs than do either of the commonly accepted manual methods. According to physiological measurements, this method can move from 1,000 to 2,000 cc. of air into the lungs.

The air which you normally exhale contains enough oxygen for resuscitation. And this amount is increased when you breathe deeply. Thus, the air which you could blow into a victim's lungs would provide more oxygen than that taken in during normal breathing.

U.S., India Sign Special Atomic Energy Contract

By RUKMINI DEVI
Canadian Press Correspondent
BOMBAY, India (CP) — The government of India and the United States Atomic Energy Commission have signed a contract for the lease of 15 tons of heavy water for use in India's atomic energy program.

It is the first time the U.S. commission has leased heavy water to a foreign government. India is currently engaged in expanding her atomic energy program. The country's first nuclear power station is being planned at the textile city of Ahmedabad in Western India.

The heavy water will be used as an initial inventory for Zerlina, India's second research reactor at Trombay, where Canada is helping to build the other reactor. Zerlina will be used by India for research into the peaceful uses of atomic energy. Heavy water is one of the most efficient materials available for moderating atomic reactions under controlled conditions in an atomic reactor.

U.S.-CANADA AID
India's program to harness the atom to peaceful uses has been receiving assistance from both Canada and the U.S. The Canada-India $19,500,000 reactor, due to go into operation in mid-1960, is the showpiece of Canada's Colombo plan projects in terms of international prestige.

The U.S. government has presented an entire library of research reports and scientific abstracts on atomic energy developments to the Atomic Energy Establishment at Trombay. To date, 21 leading Indian nuclear scientists have been sent for advanced training in America under the U.S. Technical Co-operation Mission's program. Fourteen more Indians are preparing to proceed to the U.S.

Three of India's leading institutes engaged in agricultural, scientific and medical research have received isotope tracer equipment from the U.S.

BLOOD LAW PASSED

Hawaii Splits Its Political Prize Plums

HONOLULU (AP) — Hawaiians voting in their first state election appeared to have split the islands' major political prizes between Democrats and Republicans.

Democrat Daniel K. Inouye won the lone House of Representatives seat by a margin of 24 to 1 while Democrat Oren E. Long led in the race for one Senate seat. Republican William F. Quinn took the lead in the governor's race and Hiram Fong, another Republican, held the edge for the other Senate seat.

U.S. Pet Food Supplier Seeks Kangaroo Meat

SYDNEY (CP) — A United States pet food supplier has asked an Australian firm to send a sample shipment of bonded kangaroo meat.

E. H. Spenseley, director of New England Frozen Food Distributors, said he was negotiating with the government for permission to export 12,000 pounds of the meat, worth $1,000.

Kangaroos have reached plague proportions in some parts of New South Wales and efforts are being made to reduce their numbers.

The United States also is reported interested in receiving boneless goat meat from South Australia for use in the manufacture of small goods for the human table.

The management of the state government freezing works at Port Lincoln announced killing would begin at once for the Adelaide agents of Philadelphia meat packer Arnold Zitin.

KILL 1,000 A WEEK
Killing would be increased to 1,000 goats a week by the end of July. The meat will be chilled and packed in plastic containers for shipment. Hair from the goats will go into Australian carpet manufacture.

The first week's killing had to be postponed when 500 goats that had been rounded up escaped back to the bush. Wild goats are reported to be in great numbers in northern South Australia.

In the more normal line of meat shipments, the United States International Shipping and Export Agency is buying 200,000 lambs a year. The former coastal vessel Westralia has been specially fitted to carry lambs across the Pacific for American dinner tables.

The first shipment of 30,000 lambs will be accompanied by a Sydney University professor, six final-year veterinary students and six experienced stockmen. They will take care of the animals during the 21-day voyage to San Diego with a special diet of food concentrates.

Amateur Painter Determined To Work At Art

APSLEY, Ont. (CP) — Amateur painter Louise Welham is determined to keep working at her art on her 100-acre farm property here, and has turned down an offer of $50,000 for the land.

She has been plagued with offers to buy the farm land following reports that rich deposits of uranium may be in the area.

"The geiger counters seem to go wild as soon as they leave the house," she said in an interview. "But I like painting. It gives me my greatest satisfaction in life, anywhere in Canada."

Art experts in Toronto have expressed interest in her work, she said. "But... you have to have salesmanship in art today."

A Canadian painter with original ideas must obtain recognition abroad before he can get his greatest satisfaction in life, anywhere in Canada.

and this is an ideal spot for painting." She has 600 of her paintings on the farm, 30 miles north of Peterborough in the Kawartha Lake district. She bought the property in 1951, but gave up trying to raise chickens and pigs and settled for cultivating a few flowers and vegetables whenever she was not at her easel.

The Algiers-born painter says she has no intention of moving from the farm on which she gains "inspiration and a quietness."

Art experts in Toronto have expressed interest in her work, she said. "But... you have to have salesmanship in art today."
